

The “Patata Burgesa”.

Instruccions d'ús

1. The "Patata Burgesa"

The Burgess potato is a card game for 2 to 8 players set in the Medieval Potato world, where the goal of the game is to achieve and keep the most essential and remarkable potato of the moment, the Burgess potato!

2. How to Play?

To play the Burgess Potato, it is essential to know these indications:

2.1. Setting the game:

Before we can start to play, first you have to split all the cards among all the players. The dice can be used to count the rounds you have played.

2.2. The rounds :

The rounds mark the rhythm of the game, you will always have as many rounds as players are playing. The more Burgess player will start the game and mark the round change, or in case you don't get decided, you can also throw a dice and see who get the highest number.

When it becomes the turn of the person who started, the next round will begin.

2.3. The turn:

During each round, each player will be given a turn, during which the player can only throw a card and then the action of the specific card will be held (see Cards and actions).

In case the player has no card in the hand, he or she will have to take one of the cards played, which will be had mixed and put it in the centre of the table.

2.4. The victory:

When so many rounds have been made as players, the game will end, and the player with the Burgess Potato in the hand will win the game.

1. Cards and actions.

During each turn, the player can play cards to use his actions to win or maintain the bourgeois potato.

The cards are catalogued in three groups:

- Unique cards: These are cards cannot be played or ruled out, in the event that a player only has a unique card, they must show them to steal another card to play. These letters can only be played and/or discarded by special letters.

- Special cards: Are cards that can only be played once a game, and their actions allow to discard and/or affect the unique cards.
- Normal cards: These cards have no extra effect.

The Burgess Potato: Unique Card.

Who has this card at the end of the game, wins.

King Patatrack I: Special Card.

When this card is played, all cards are discarded, mixed, and redistributed.

Queen Patatòfona III: Special Card.

When you play this card, all players give their cards to the player on their left.

Princep Patatúm II:

When you play this card, swap all your cards with those of another player.

Bard Potato:

When you play this card, whoever played it can steal a card to a player.

Artisan Potato:

When this card is played, the rest of the players discard a card.

Paladin Potato:

When this card is played, it gives immunity to other cards until the start of the player's turn. (including Special Cards actions)

Noble Potato:

When you play this card, whoever played it can steal a card to the rest of the players.

Clerical Potato:*

When you play this card, everyone steal two cards from the player to his right.

Patata Obrera:

This card has no special action.

Anarchic potato:

When you play this card, you can force another player to discard half of his cards.

* The action of the Clerical potato always begins stealing who has thrown it to his right, then he steals it to his right, and so until everyone has stolen 2 cards to his right.

1. Game content.

Inside the Burgess potato box comes the following content:

1. 42 Cards of the bourgeois potato game:

- 1x Bourgeois potato.
- 1x King Patatric I.
- 1x Queen Patatòfona III.
- 1x Princep Patatúm II.

- 4x Noble potato.
 - 4x Clerical potato.
 - 4x Paladin potato.
 - 1. 4x Anàrquique potato.
 - 5x Bard potato.
 - 5x Artisan potato.
 - 12x Workers potato.
- 1 Dice counter of rounds